MUCH DISTRESS NOW REPORTED

North Holland Endangered By Sweeping Waters of the Zuider Zee.

ONDON, Eng., Jan. 15.—The damage caused by the flood in northern Holland is sald by Reueter's Amsterdum correspondent to be greater than was believed at first. The great dikes along the Zuider Zee collapsed at several places. Peasants with their cattle fled precipitately before the rising waters.

Near Muiden the dike broke at several points. Before the people realized the danger the waters of the Zuider Zee rushed through the gaps with such force as to wash away large sections of the road which runs along the dike. From all north Holland comes reports of distress caused by the flood.

of information regarding the Carransa government in answer to senator Fall's resolution.

Stone Cites Criticisms.

Senator Stone told secretary Lensing the foreign relations committee particularly desired to keep in close touch with Mexican developments. He called attention to criticisms lately made in the senate, intimating that Mexican affairs had been clothed with secreey.

"I also urged upon the secretary the importance of the United States having a diplomatic representative attached to the Carranza government in this crisis," said senator Stone, "and assured him that we could do nothing toward confirmation of Heary P. Fletcher, the president's nominee for ambassador to the defacto government, until the president repolied to senator Fall's resolution. The secretary assured me the data would be ready early next week. I have called a meeting of the foreign relations committee for next Wednesday and hope the information will be ready then.

Senators Oppose Carranza.

One or two senators have indicated that they would not vote to send an ambassador to Carranza at all. Senator Fall says he will never vote to confirm the nomination because he resards Carranza as an until man to head the defacto government.

"But a majority of the senators. I think agree with me that it is of the Unions importance for this government a confirmation of Carranza agovernment as ephemoral.
